

Guidelines for Participant

1. The dress code is smart casual.
2. Please register at the registration counter when you arrive.
3. It is not compulsory that you attend every presentation for each concurrent session.
However, your participation would be appreciated. If you do choose to leave before the entire concurrent session ends, please wait till the current presentation is over to avoid disrupting the presentation.
4. You are encouraged to be punctual for presentation sessions, keynotes and forum session by arriving the venue before the starting time, so as to avoid disrupting the ongoing sessions.
5. Please keep quiet, take a seat and set your phones to silent mode during the presentations.
6. You are encouraged to actively participate in any session by asking the presenter questions during the Q & A session at the end of their presentation by submitting your questions at PollEv.com/mapsa2019001.
7. For the poster presentation, you may contribute by voting for the Best Poster Award at PollEv.com/mapsa2019001.
8. If you cannot locate any of the venues, please approach any of our volunteers who will be wearing the red Psyclub T-shirt.
9. If you feel unwell or have been injured, please approach any of our volunteer.
